Sylvia Woods : 22 Romantic Songs for the Harp before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised 22 Romantic Songs for the Harp:

I still have my Sylvia Woods books (50 Christmas Carols for all Harps, 76 Disney Songs for the Harp) from when I was five years old and on my first lever harp. I'm twenty-two years old now and on a concert grand pedal harp, but I still keep Woods' work in my repertoire. Woods creates great arrangements! I'd say 22 Romantic Songs is for the intermediate-level harpist, but Sylvia Woods makes it easy for her music to be adapted to any skill level. She includes key changes above each measure in her music, so a beginner or advanced harpist can easily add or take away notes/chords if they understand music theory. Woods' also includes markings for both the lever and pedal changes in her music, so all types of harpists (lever or pedal) can easily follow her work. There is a notation in the top corner of every song which instructs lever harps what key to tune their harp in, which is helpful. Also included are the song lyrics and information about each song which is nice to have. I highly recommend 22 Romantic Songs and any other Sylvia Woods' arrangements. You'll have these songbooks for years and you'll be able to adjust them to your skill level as you need. Every harpist should have Sylvia Woods' work in their repertoire. You won't regret this purchase!! 6 of 6 people found the following review helpful. Perfect Addition for a gig book By Mia Theodoratus This book saved me after booking 2 harp duo gigs that were 3 hours. I know the arrangements are not exactly "how the song goes" and sometimes notes are left out, BUT if you are playing background music it is a life saver. It gives you just enough pop romantic tunes all in one purchase to make your client happy. It has the chord symbols so you can easier improv and do variations on the tunes. I also discovered a Summer Place (amazing song!) and found out how fun it is to play Raindrop Keep Falling on my Head (this one will make everyone smile and it is upbeat). 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By LJH Just what I've been looking for to extend my contemporary harp arrangements for playing at the Cafe.

(Harp). Nearly two dozen favorites, including: Evergreen * From This Moment On * Lady * Let It Be Me * Never My Love * Send in the Clowns * Sunrise, Sunset * The Prayer * The Rose * The Wind Beneath My Wings * Through the Eyes of Love * and more. Playable on lever harps and pedal harps.
