Hugh Jassburn : 52 Things to Learn on the Loo before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised 52 Things to Learn on the Loo:

Make use of those dull moments on the lav by teaching yourself how a starfish eats a clam, how to say Hello in every European language and what the dot over an i is called. Covering all types of trivia, from science and natural history to the different types of moustache, this little book contains enough fascinating facts to keep you learning throughout the year.

About the Author Hugh Jassburn has been pooping since 1974. After several months of producing a variety of stools (mostly in washable and reusable nappies) he moved on to disposables. By 1978 Hugh was a regular toilet user and hasn't looked back since. He is not a fan of cheap toilet paper, and strongly believes the flap should always be at the front of the roll.
