This pamphlet, written by George C.,not only emphasizes his card counting techniques, but schools you in ways of covering yourself so casinos will be slower to recognize you as a card counter. As the author points out, "There are a number of consultants that casinos have hired to thwart the high stakes skilled player. It's a simple matter for the casino to put you on tape. Send that tape to a qualified consultant and at his (her) leisure pick your game apart. Fortunately, for now, there are few who can spot a good player who uses superb cover."The pamphlet is divided into three parts: 1. Compilation of the author's most memorable times "sprinkled with some superb cover ideas that I and big money players use today"2. The story of how the author "formed a high stakes team and devised numrous methods to deceive the pit."3. Lays out the authors counting methods, in detail.
