

(Read now) Tricks with Your Head: Hilarious Magic Tricks and Stunts to Disgust and Delight

Tricks with Your Head: Hilarious Magic Tricks and Stunts to Disgust and Delight

Mac King, Mark Levy
*ePub | DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF

#1034354 in Books Mark Levy 2002-02-26 2002-02-26 Original language: English PDF # 1 7.98 x .44 x 5.171, .38 #File Name: 0609805916208 pages Tricks with Your Head Hilarious Magic Tricks and Stunts to Disgust and Delight | File size: 30.Mb

Mac King, Mark Levy : Tricks with Your Head: Hilarious Magic Tricks and Stunts to Disgust and Delight before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Tricks with Your Head: Hilarious Magic Tricks and Stunts to Disgust and Delight:

2 of 2 people found the following review helpful. The Most Useful Magic Book Ever!By NemoTricks with your head is a great book full of useful magic. Lets face it people. magic is not cool. That being said, this book has the quick and funny kind. The kind of magic that you can both disgust your friends and make kids laugh. Read a magic trick in the book, practice it for 5 minutes and you are set.Snort a french fry up your nose. Shove a straw through your throat. Put a fork in your eye! These are great!Mac, you are the man!21 of 22 people found the following review helpful. Mostly Parlor Tricks with a Few Surprises.By John A Lee IIII like gags. I guess it's a sign of a sophomoric mind but I really like disgusting ones that gross people out without ever really doing anything "bad". I also like to teach young kids tricks to play at the dinner table when out at fancy restaurants. I usually repent and offer not to teach the trick if a parent offers a suitable bribe. So it is that I thought this book might generate some laughs and even some revenue.There are a few tricks in here worthwhile. The popping eyeball and the exploding zit both have a satisfactory degree of "yuk" mixed with "he didn't really do that, did he?" but most of them require more setup than can be achieved in a spontaneous setting. Worse, from my point of view, they come across as "Magic Tricks" even when they're being done. If you hand somebody a deck of cards and tell them to pick one, they have an idea that a performance is involved even if they have no idea what the trick is. The gags I look for are ones in which no one realizes that a gag has occurred until after it is over. As I said, a few of these meet that criterion. The rest are parlor tricks.This book does a good job of teaching those tricks. Anyone can learn them. If that is your goal, you could do much worse. For what I was seeking, though, it did not have much. Still, it is written well and in an entertaining fashion.6 of 7 people found the following review helpful. Funny to read, even funnier to do!By Mark PhillipsI've seen Mac's great and funny show at Harrah's in Las Vegas and will never forget him making his head disappear. It was so totally unexpected, it was just hilarious. With this book you can learn to make your own head disappear too, along with a couple dozen other great tricks, stunts and gags that take minimal skill and practice. Most of them do contain a similar unexpected, bizzarre twist that will make you laugh out loud just by imagining yourself performing them. This is a funny, funny book. I'm going to be giving a lot of them at Christmas!

Mac King is a god. Penn and TellerTricks with Your Head is the worlds greatest (and only) collection of hilarious, mystifying, and sometimes repulsive magic tricks that you can perform with your very own head.If youve only thought of your head as a receptacle for so-called higher learning, or as a structure for keeping your haircut from falling into your body cavity, rejoice! Now you can use that ten-pound meatball between your shoulders as a source of ribald entertainment. Best of all, when you learn to perform a head trick, you can never be caught without your prop.Mac King and Mark Levy have perfected the ultimate mix of head games (literally) in this clever illustrated volume that teaches you how to:* Make your head disappear* Penetrate your skull with a drinking straw * Make a french fry vanish up your nose* Read someones mind* Jab a fork in your eye

From Publishers WeeklyMagic and Megacheese"Cat Chiropractor," "Funnel in Pants," "Fingertip Eyeballs" and "A Trick with Ben Franklin's Head" are just a few of the Tricks with Your Head: Hilarious Magic Tricks to Disgust and Delight offered by Las Vegas magician Mac King, who performs on NBC's annual World's Greatest Magic, and book wholesaler Mark Levy (Magic for Dummies). With clear (and joke-filled) instructions and 68 line-drawings, even the most inept should find something to amaze the experts and tyros alike. Copyright 2002 Cahners Business Information, Inc.From the Inside Flap"Mac King is a god." --Penn and Teller Tricks with Your Head is the world's greatest (and only) collection of hilarious, mystifying, and sometimes repulsive magic tricks that you can perform with your very own head. If you've only thought of your head as a receptacle for so-called higher learning, or as a structure for keeping your haircut from falling into your body cavity, rejoice! Now you can use that ten-pound meatball between your shoulders as a source of ribald entertainment. Best of all, when you learn to perform a head trick, you can never be caught without your prop. Mac King and Mark Levy have perfected the ultimate mix of head games (literally) in this clever illustrated volume that teaches you how to: * Make your head disappear* Penetrate your skull with a drinking straw * Make a french fry vanish up your nose* Read someone's mind* Jab a fork in your eyeAbout the AuthorMAC KING is a magicians magician who performs in the top Las Vegas hotels and has his own segment, Mac Kings School of Magic, on NBC's annual Worlds Greatest Magic show. MARK LEVY is a contributing editor at Magic magazine and is the author of Accidental Genius: Revolutionize Your Thinking Through Private Writing and the cocreator of Magic for Dummies.