Alan Bennett : Triple Bill: Three Classic BBC Radio Dramas before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Triple Bill: Three Classic BBC Radio Dramas:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Touching! By Don Wardell It's the deceptive simplicity of the characters that draw me into Alan Bennett's work. The elderly couple meeting a social worker for a review of their circumstances slowly pulls back the curtain on all their lives. Your sympathies suddenly shift from the novice interviewer to the depth, kindness and life experience of the mature couple. The plots, seemingly light as a spider's web trap you and more importantly you ponder over these characters over and over again long after the plays have finished. No guns, banks robberies here, simply a deep understanding and insight into the human condition. Touching! Don Wardell KWCY Radio Palm Springs.

A triple bill of Alan Bennett plays released on audio for the first time. Includes: Say Something Happened - A council worker calls on an elderly couple -- but she needs more help than they do. With Thora Hird, Brian Wilde and Imelda Staunton. Two in Torquay - A man and woman converse in a Torquay hotel, but who are they really and who is deceiving whom? Stars Judi Dench and Alan Bennett. A Visit From Miss Prothero - Since Mr Dodsworth retired he had all the time in the world -- then he had a caller: Miss Prothero. With Hugh Lloyd and Patricia Routledge.

About the Author Alan Bennett was first on stage with the Oxford Theatre Group in 1959. He collaborated on the revue Beyond the Fringe, which opened in Edinburgh in 1960 and then to the West End and Broadway. His collection of
