Francis Heaney : Trivia Hangman (Scratch Solve Series) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Trivia Hangman (Scratch Solve Series):

Buying this book was a risk, but I trust Francis Heaney enough that this book wouldn't be a disappointment. The book is filled with Trivia Hangman puzzles: in which one puzzle consists of 4 regular hangman scratchies - as found in Mike Ward's -as well as Heaney's-

Hangman books. But the Trivia element to this is that, the 4 answers are linked to each other by a certain category. And this is what the solver has to find. For example: suppose the 4 answers were HIMALAYAS, TENZING NORGAY, EIGHT-THOUSANDER and QOMOLANGMA then your answer would be MT. EVEREST. A creative book. But the scratchies are a bit hard to brush off. Will worth your money. 2 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Steer clear of this book, not much fun. By Gina C. Moss I have done at least a dozen of these books. I do them over the phone with my father. We have a blast (usually). But not with this book. After the first few puzzles, I could see that the "clues", if you can call them that, were so obscure, they were truly unhelpful. If you read the description of this product, you will glean that on every two pages, there are four puzzles. Once solved, they are supposed to be hints toward the final answer. In other words, "what do these four things have in common?" Honestly, they are nonsense, frustrating, and no fun at all. For example, Firefly+Spaulding+Driftwood+Wagstaff= Groucho Marx OR Eustace Tilly+ Talk of the Town+Harold Ross+Addams Family=The New Yorker OR Table Tennis +Beijing+ Water Polo+Barcelona= Summer Olympics. I mean if you are a finalist on Jeopardy, maybe you'd get it! 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Five Stars By BeBick Great for trips in the car

Hangman has entertained for eons, but now it's two games in one, testing both your word skills and your knowledge of trivia. Start by scratching off the silver-coated circles to try and find the right letters; you get six chances before you're hanged. Play four times to find four different words or phrases. If you guess them all correctly, try to discover what links all the answers. For instance, WORLD'S FAIR; PARIS, FRANCE; LATTICEWORK; and STEEL GIRDERS would lead to the answer EIFFEL TOWER. It's a real treat!
