becoming a magician. Instead of the old "study hard, get a real job like me and forget about your dream" I was curious to see what books are out there about turning someone's passion into a successful business. Chris Burton's book was the perfect fit. The author speaks openly about his humble beginnings and we have already implemented one of his suggestions and have created business cards for our son to hand out when he is doing magic tricks somewhere. I also liked learning how understanding what kind of audience one wants to perform for is a critical understanding to have in terms in how and where to promote. Through this book I have come to appreciate that one has to be an entrepreneur as well as a magician. Mr. Burton also gives detailed information on how to find the market one wants to perform in and how to go about building one's brand successfully. I also enjoyed learning how the process of coming to understand what to charge for events and shows. After reading this book I am confident that if our 8 year old continues to be passionate about becoming a magician, he can also become a well paid magician. If you happen to love magic and are thinking of going pro, this book will be an invaluable resource for you and I highly recommend it. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Chris Burton really has a magical gift, not just because he is good at doing card tricks, but because he reveals the business secrets behind the magic that can take someone from being an hobby magician to a real pro. I used to do a fair amount of magic when I was a professional clown in my teenage years, and I have seen first hand some of Chris's magic and it is first class. In his book he talks about the cues that one needs to listen for when you are performing to know if you can make a business out of it. These sayings from your audience will let you know that you can do this for money: "Can I hire you?" and "Do you have a business card?" If you are not hearing these sayings then you need more practice. Being good at magic and being paid to do it are two different things, and Chris really tells you have to accomplish both in this book. I highly recommend this book to anyone that has a passion to create magic! 1 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Too basic to simpleBy CustomerThis book is insulting. It is so basic that a little common sense would give you more info then this book. If your a teenager and know zero about business then buy otherwise leave it alone.

After having lots of magicians and hobbyists asking Chris how to find bookings, Chris has decided to open up and share with you the seven proven methods he uses to get bookings throughout the year since the age of eighteen. With a fourteen year track recorded of performing magic since writing this book, Chris will show you everything you need to know to turn your magic into money! For example, you will learn how to market yourself as a magician, who to market to, how to find the best agency to work with, and more! If you have been wanting to turn pro and felt you werent prepared, then this book gives you the tools to start turning your magic into money.

About the AuthorBorn in Barnet, North London, Chris's own particular brand of magic which he developed in his late teens is fast, fluid, and constantly changing. Specializing in the most incredible card tricks with a normal pack of cards, he uses flourishes, fans and fancy cuts in routines that give the word dexterity a new meaning. From the age of sixteen, Chris used to practice six hours a day to perfect the art form known as sleight of hand magic. Chris leaves audiences completely amazed while thinking what they have just seen is impossible. They will question their eyesight! Working as a professional magician since the age of eighteen, Chriss own classy act has been seen at venues across the country including the Landmark, The Savoy, Brompton Hall, The Grove, The Hilton, Harrods and Hamleys while also performing abroad in countries such as Portugal, France, Ghana, Italy, and America. Chris has also been hired to use his card handling skills for the TV adverts by Mac Donald, O2, and Sky Bets, just to name a few. While doing his style of magic, Chris has also performed to celebrities such as Status Quo, Uri Geller, Ron Dennis, Jonathan Ross, Justin Lee Collin, James Corden, Paul Young, and the list goes on. Chris has also created high-level online training courses called Secrets of Card Magic which teaches you how to perform amazing card tricks, sleight of hand, and fancy flourishes to amaze your friends and family. Chris Burton has to be seen to be believed. His magic is fast, straight to the point and visually defying. What he does with cards is nobodys business. He is quite literally AMAZING! -
