I'm in piano music heaven right now. The etudes in this book are on volume 4 of the CDs, and I love being able to listen to a professional pianist play these, so I can hear how they are supposed to sound. The compositions are lovely. Some are amazingly simple, others are more challenging. I happened on MacDowell and am very pleased and impressed with his work. I can't figure out why I never heard of him when I was taking lessons (all those years ago). I highly recommend this for anyone playing classical music or who wants someone other than the standard classical composers. 0 of 0 people found
